

THE INSTITUTE FOR SECURITY STUDIES

In collaboration with

THE CATHOLIC PARLIAMENTARY LIAISON OFFICE

And

THE HANNS SEIDEL FOUNDATION

cordially invite you to participate in a seminar on Elections 2019: Who is Saying What about Corruption?

Each day the Zondo Commission of Enquiry provides us with uncomfortable viewing. We are hearing about the way in which the state was captured and how those at the very highest level of the state - the former President included - were complicit. Many questions have been raised about what happens after the Zondo Commission. Now that we know, what do we do about it? Despite South Africa's comprehensive set of anti-corruption laws, there is much work to be done regarding enforcement and building a culture of accountability. There is no doubt too that corruption will be a 'hot button' election issue as other parties seek to differentiate themselves from the ANC, and as the ANC itself tries to convince voters that it is on the path to organisational renewal. This seminar will examine what the major parties are saying about dealing decisively with the scourge of corruption.

Speakers: Prof Amanda Gouws (Stellenbosch University Politics Department)
Prof Lukas Muntingh (Associate Professor, Dullah Omar Institute, University of the Western Cape)
Ms Karabo Rajuli (Advocacy Coordinator, Amabhungane)

Date: Tuesday, 19th March 2019

Time: 09h30 for 10h00 – 12h00

Venue: 6 Spin Street, Cape Town (map attached)

Please RSVP before Thursday, 14th March 2019

to Helen Chanda: HChanda@issafrica.org or telephone 012 346 9500